Class News

24/4/26 As we head towards SATs, the children have been working extremely hard. In maths, we are finishing reasoning about angles and are recapping key parts of the maths curriculum. In English, we have immersed ourselves in the biography of Harriet Tubman and been very interested in her fight against slavery. In PE, we have finished our units on gymnastics and tennis ( without losing many tennis balls). In geography, we have started our geography unit on North America starting with some of its most famous physical features. ( If only we could go on a field trip there!) Playing the 12 bar blues and learning the blues scale has been our focus in music and we have started our unit on evolution and inheritance in science. The children have been looking at how we can use AI and the ethical issues surrounding it. (We should use AI to write this next time!) We are really proud of how the children have settled into this new term.

15/5/26 We are incredibly proud of our Year 6 children for the way they approached their SATs this week. They were an absolute credit to the school, taking each test in their stride with maturity, resilience and positive attitudes throughout. They fully embraced the experience – especially enjoying the SATs breakfasts, eating sweets during the tests and the well-earned extra break times! It was wonderful to see them supporting one another and showing such determination. We also had a fantastic trip to the Mayflower Theatre to watch Matilda. The performance was truly inspiring and has already sparked lots of excitement and ideas as we begin thinking about our own upcoming Year 6 production. In English, we are coming to the end of our unit on Harriet Tubman. The children have worked hard to gather and organise their knowledge and are now using this to write their own detailed biographies about her remarkable life. Their writing has demonstrated both depth of understanding and growing confidence in structuring non-fiction texts. In Design and Technology, we have begun our sewing unit. The children have quickly developed their skills and can now confidently use a range of stitches, including running stitch, back stitch and over stitch, just to name a few. It has been fantastic to see their patience, concentration and creativity developing as they practise these techniques.
